

Controversies: LG Chem

- In May of 2020, a chemical disaster dubbed “Mini-Bhopal” by UNEP’s human rights expert occurred at a LG Chem plant in India. Toxic styrene gas leaked out from the plant, killing 15 people and injuring hundreds. LG Polymers, a subsidiary of LG Chem, produces polystyrene and its co-polymers in the facility located in Visakhapatnam.
- The company has been embroiled in the 2019 emissions data scandal wherein LG Chem was found to have colluded with four measurement agencies to rig air pollution data over four years. LG Chem was found to have manipulated data on its vinyl chloride emissions.
- In 2013, LG Chem was among 164 Korean companies found to discharge toxic chemicals into the environment.
- The company has been fined 42,000 USD for one environmental violation over the past ten years, according to the violation tracker project of Good Jobs First.